Where everything is One Step Away

Nova Gorica, the natural heart of the Goriška region, a small city with a mild climate, easily accessible, only a stone's throw from the sea and hills, lies between the Alps and the Adriatic Sea, where the influences of Slav, German and Roman cultures and the characteristics of the three winegrowing surrounding regions with distinct cuisine intertwine in an interesting way, in the hinterland of Venice, Trieste and Gorizia, only 100 kilometres (62 miles) away from the Slovenian capital Ljubljana.

Some roads from Nova Gorica lead to the Soča Valley, up to Trenta and across to the Cerljansko and Idrijsko regions, to Brda, the Vipava Valley and, further on, towards Ljubljana, in the Karst. Here, the Goriška region opens and unfolds the hidden beauty and unique treasures waiting to be discovered. Everything is so close to Nova Gorica.
